1. Due to the removal of waste management activities from the scope of work , the last bullet under the assumptions for the Hypothetical Residential Removal Scenario of Section L.5.B.3 of the original RFP, is removed in its' entirety.

2. Now that waste management is removed from this contract will the removal contractor be responsible for any transportation of waste?

Response: Yes, the waste management activities that were removed from the contract were the operation of the mine and the landfill cell. The removal contractor will still be responsible for transporting all removal wastes to these waste management sites where it will then be "managed" under a separate contract.
